Invitation

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

You are cordially invited to participate in the National CME on "The Menace of Emerging and Re-emerging Microbes: An Overview" being organized on 15th February 2014 at All India Institute of Medical Sciences, Raipur.

For centuries infectious diseases have been ranked with famines and war as major challenges to human progress and survival. Against a constant background of established infections, epidemics of new and old infections emerge periodically, greatly magnifying the global burden of infections. These emerging infections have shaped the course of human history and have caused enormous misery and death.

Infectious diseases will continue to emerge and re-emerge leading to unpredictable epidemics and posing challenges to public health and microbiology. Keeping in view all these matters, we are organizing a CME to improve our knowledge about the course, presentation, surveillance and early diagnosis of these diseases so that we will be well armed with knowledge and skills for combating emerging and reemerging pathogens in real battlefield.
